Rehabilitation Committee Aims At $4,000 Gift Fund

Joseph DeCecco Passed Away Thursday Night

First Came to Coleman in 1911; Funeral Held Sunday Afternoon.

The death of a well known citizen occurred at his Third street home on Thursday evening when Giuseppe (Joseph) DeCecco passed away after a fairly lengthy illness. Born in the province of Udine, Italy, in 1887, he grew into young manhood there and in 1907 married Miss Domenica Feregotti. A few years later he left Italy for Canada, first settling in the Kootenay district, and in 1911 coming to Coleman where he remained until his death. He secured employment with International company and was shortly joined by his wife.

His hobbies consisted of growing flowers, particularly dahlias, and breeding canaries. He followed sports quite closely, although he seldom indulged himself. He was also a member of the OIFDI (Italian Society).

Surviving are his wife, one son, Antonio (Tony), and four daughters, Mrs. J. Rinaldi, of California; Mrs. Milo Fabro and Mrs. B. Redisky, of Kimberley, and Miss Mary, at home. Also nine grandchildren and two brothers, one in San Francisco and one in France.

The funeral was held on Sunday from the family residence, the service being conducted at Holy Ghost church, where Libra was sung. Pallbearers included P. Fontana, O. Bomben, N. Orlando, L. Salvador, L. Birardo and A. Toppo. Interment was made in Coleman Catholic cemetery. Funeral arrangements were sponsored by the Italian Society, whose members and those of the Ladies' Italian Society were present as a body.

Those from out-of-town who attended the funeral were deceased's brother, Onorio DeCecco, of San Francisco, and a nephew, Matt. DeCecco, of Kimberley.

JUNIOR RED CROSS TO SELL CALENDARS

Once again this Christmas season Miss Yull's Junior Red Cross members will make a house-to-house canvass selling calendars. They hope to sell at least 500.

The money derived from the sale of these calendars is used partly to maintain the Crippled Children's hospital, Calgary; to feed, clothe and shelter British orphans in British institutions, and also to provide barrels of cod liver oil for the children of Europe that their health may be given protection against the rigors of a European winter.

Colemanites are well aware of Miss Yull's grand work with her Junior Red Cross members and will most certainly give her the support she deserves.

Only Overseas Personnel Eligible For Gift; Gift To Have A $25 Minimum; Watches Suggested

Well Attended Committee Meeting in Favor of Launching Campaign Immediately With Closing Date Set For Jan. 15; To Publish Names of Donors And Their Subscriptions.

An important meeting of the Coleman Reception and Rehabilitation Committee was held in the council chambers on Tuesday evening with practically all members of the various sub-committees present. Chairman S. C. Short presided.

Prior to the start of the main business of the evening all sub-committee chairmen reported on their respective activities and it was revealed that all were doing good work.

The chairman revealed that the principal business in front of the meeting was to determine the number of men and women eligible for gifts, method by which this number would be determined, nature of gift, approximate cost of each gift, total cost, how it was proposed to raise the money, start and length of campaign.

Committee members of the Overseas Welfare Fund revealed that at the peak of sending cigarettes overseas 114 men and women had been on the list. It was revealed that cigarettes were not allowed to be sent personnel sailing out of Canadian ports on patrol duty in the navy. To cover men such as these the final figure was set at 125. This figure, however, is only approximate, but allows the committee a figure on which to work.

Considerable discussion took place on determining who and who was not eligible for a gift. Once again Legion members came to the fore in the discussion. It was stated that those persons wearing the Maple Leaf badge were recognized by the federal government as having served overseas or on the high seas. It was felt that the local committee would not go far wrong if it adopted the same ruling for apply to those eligible for a gift. A rider was added to this ruling, however. It was stated that only those wearing the Maple Leaf and who were resident in Coleman at the outbreak of war would be eligible.

Using the 125 as a basic figure it was suggested that $25 be the minimum cost of each gift. This would cause to be spent on gifts $3,125. Two banquets and administration expenses were estimated at $500. It was then moved that an objective of $4,000 be set.

The question of publicity was then discussed. The meeting appeared to be unanimous on the suggestion that all donors and amount of donations be listed each week in The Journal. It was pointed out that the cities and other progressive small towns adopted this system to advantage. The union official present stated that his union was assessing each member $1 and that between $700 and $800 would be raised. This amount will be listed simply as a union donation. The vote to have the donors names published passed unanimously. The secretary was authorized to prepare the list weekly and submit it to The Journal.

It was then agreed that the committee start immediately and conclude on Tuesday, Jan. 15.

During the discussion of acceptable gifts, watches were given prominent mention. It was stated that the government may not tax gifts that are purchased for armed personnel and that it is presumed manufacturers will have special discounts on such gifts. If such be the case exceptionally good watches can be purchased with the money once the objective has been achieved.

6,000 Doctors Fight Death In Barefoot Poland

Ostroleka, Poland, Oct. 1. —(A.P.)—Legions of barefoot and hungry persons in northeastern Poland grimly race the coming winter as they work to build temporary structures for themselves in a war-stripped land.

The land is filled with dead and the dying. Near the former East Prussian frontier many men, women and children whose lives could be saved by operations must die because the Germans looted all medical equipment. Many of the people are living under some of the most primitive conditions known to man.

Poland's health and medical services have broken down, but the 6,000 doctors the country has left out of a pre-war total of 13,000 are struggling valiantly to control disease. But the doctors have almost nothing with which to work. It is estimated that 70 per cent of Poland's hospitals and clinics were destroyed.

Thousands have died and probably thousands more will die this winter. Medical records of the United Nations' relief and rehabilitation administration show that 12,000 cases of typhus, 22,000 of typhoid fever, 3,400 of dysentery, 6,000 of scarlet fever and 6,500 of diphtheria were reported in Poland up to the end of August.

A committee is active in Coleman seeking subscriptions to the United Polish Relief Fund. Mike Opulski, whose address is the Coleman hotel, is secretary of the Fund and will be pleased to receive subscriptions from any individual or organization.

GENERAL MACARTHUR ALLOWING THE JAPANESE TO IMPORT FOOD AND OTHER ESSENTIAL GOODS

TOKYO.—Gen. MacArthur has granted the Japanese government permission to import food, cotton, petroleum and salt—clearing the way for revival of foreign trade.

Allied headquarters press release said neither extent nor sources of the imports in 1946 has been determined. Amounts will depend on availability of shipping and world supplies as well as Japan's ability to pay in commensurate exports.

Commerce Minister Sanikuro Ogasawara revealed Nov. 14 the Japanese government had applied for permission to import 3,000,000 tons of food, mostly from North America; 180,000 tons of cotton, and 1,120,000 tons of coal. Canada would be asked to sell Japan grain, it was understood.

Japan already is sending vitally needed exports to Far East ports, headquarters disclosed. Coal is going to Korea and Hong Kong, and timber is being shipped to China.

Other developments: Kazunobu Kanokogi, fourth on the new 11-man list of Japanese war leaders ordered arrested by Gen. MacArthur, surrendered at Sugamo prison. Kanokogi, 61, long had been identified with the Black Dragon secret society and National activities, headquarters said.

Premier Kijuro Shidehara consulted Gen. MacArthur presumably about the diet session which is scheduled to chart reforms leading away from wartime totalitarianism.

The board said the change was made to allow a greater choice if more preserves were desired for the Christmas season.

RECORDS KEPT BY TOP NAZIS WILL BE MAIN EVIDENCE IN THEIR TRIAL FOR WAR CRIMES

NEURNBERG, Germany.—The powerful American case against indicted Nazi leaders and organizations was impressively presented before the international war crimes tribunal with Justice Robert H. Jackson describing the 20 defendants as "living symbols of racial hatred, of terrorism and violence, and of arrogance and cruelty."

The United States' prosecutor spoke after the broken men in the dock all pleaded innocent to the omnibus charges leveled against them and after their lawyers had sought unsuccessfully to quash the trial.

Justice Jackson predicted the accused would be convicted by their own "Teutonic thoroughness" for recording everything from plans in 1940 to attack the United States to the smallest atrocities.

In a 20,000 word statement prepared for the trial's second session, Justice Jackson made these points:

"We will not ask you to convict these men on the testimony of their foes. There is no count of the indictment that cannot be proved by books and records. . . . These defendants had their share of the Teutonic

LOAN FROM BRITAIN

Rough Diamonds Are To Be Weighed

Against Molester Leader
LONDON.—Diamond interests here are lending some 600,000 carats (about 265 pounds) of rough diamonds so that the Aga Khan can be weighed against diamonds when he celebrates his diamond jubilee in Bombay next March.

The Aga Khan, who will have completed 60 years as spiritual leader of India's Moslems, is expected to weigh 245 pounds. He was weighed against gold when he celebrated his golden jubilee. The gold then was valued at $80,000.

Indian leaders here said that about $1,200,000 would be distributed for charity in India to celebrate the diamond jubilee and said that $3,200,000 had been collected from wealthy Indians for social welfare purposes.

After the ceremony the diamonds will be returned to London. (One diamond expert in New York estimated that the gems would be worth at least $60,000,000.)

He is sorry he did not store his bonds in the bank, admits his mistake in leaving them in an old shopping bag in his bachelor living-room.

CANADIAN HORSES

About 3,000 Draft Animals Sent To France And Netherlands

OTTAWA.—Ranging in age from three to nine years, approximately 3,000 draft horses were purchased in Canada up to Oct. 25, 1945, for the special products board of the federal department of agriculture for shipment to France and the Netherlands.

This information was given to the house of commons in a return tabled by Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner for Hazon R. Argue (C.C.F., Wood Mountain).

Of the 2,936 horses purchased, 1,795 were bought from individual farmers and horse dealers in Saskatchewan. Quebec sold 786 horses, Ontario 220, and Alberta 35.

The prices ranged from $80 to $160 each. The horses will be used for work and breeding purposes in an effort to restore the horse population in these two countries which suffered so in the past five years due to the war.

SOME ARE HELD

But Government Is Relaxing Controls As Quickly As Possible

OTTAWA.—Reconstruction Minister Howe said in the commons the government was continuing the policy of relaxing controls as soon as possible, but would have to continue for some time yet its control of timber, rubber, vehicles, construction, coal, priorities and natural gas.

It was believed it might be possible to end tire rationing next spring and it would not be long before trucks could be made available to the general public. Priorities on passenger cars would continue until essential users were supplied.

CANADA'S CONTRIBUTION

LONDON.—Hugh Dalton, chancellor of the exchequer, disclosed that Canada contributed $2,562,000,000 to the British war effort. In addition to an outright gift of $1,000,000,000 in 1942, Mr. Dalton said the Canadian government had given supplies of natural aid to Britain of an estimated value of $1,562,000,000 up to the end of August, 1945.

DEMOBILIZATION OF CANADA'S THREE-ARMED FORCES MOVING STEADILY TOWARD FINAL GOAL

N.Y. GETS NEW MAYOR—New York's new mayor is William O'Dwyer, former brigadier, who was supported by the Democrats and American Labor Party. He defeated La Guardia and Dewey men. A native of Ireland, he has been a citizen of the U.S. for 30 years.

OTTAWA.—Canada has stripped down the strength of her three armed forces by almost 300,000 men and women since VE-Day and at the rate of roughly 65,000 a month, that process is moving steadily towards the goal of final demobilization.

In the six months since the collapse of Germany and the three months since the capitulation of Japan, the army and air force have returned more than 170,000 from overseas.

The giant task of reconversion has not been without its strain, its plights. Housing has loomed like a dismal shadow over the whole complex mechanism. Veterans back at university have found their allowances inadequate to have district depot. At long last the labor department has reported more people seeking jobs than there are jobs available.

But against the general scheme of rehabilitation laid down by the expanding department of veterans affairs there has been little or no objection.

Upon that department is devolving the major burden of putting the veterans back into civilian life on as healthy a level as possible. By university and vocational training, by housing, by financial, by land settlement, by pension and other aids, it is equipped to do so.

In the army the steadily lowering discharge point total has reached 100,000 usually amassed by an overseas veteran.

When he arrives in Canada he is given 30 days leave or, alternately, he can report to his district depot, be discharged and obtain 30 days pay and allowances in lieu of leave. When he reports to the depot he is given 24 hours leave to prepare his documents and necessities for discharge. Within 30 hours, if his documents, his physical health and other possible hindrances are in line, he is discharged.

Soldiers stationed in Canada get seven days' prior leave before discharge. The veteran's first introduction to discharge benefits comes through the clothing allowance of $100 and the rehabilitation grant of one month's pay plus dependent's allowance for the same period.

That same day of discharge he applies for his war service gratuity and from it is figured his rehabilitation credit, which can be used toward repair or modernization or building a home, for buying furniture, for reducing a mortgage, towards government insurance, for provision of working capital for a business, or for other purposes within 10 years of discharge.

From those benefits, the program opens into numerous others. The veteran can go through a year, can receive out-of-work benefits, awaiting returns for a business that isn't quite ready to pay, pensions, veterans insurance, vocational training, can get a farm or a small holding under the Veterans' Land Act.

But says the department of veterans affairs, there is always one vital qualification for success—only Douglas MacArthur's headquarters disclosed.

MANY NEW PRODUCTS ARE TO BE MANUFACTURED IN CANADA WHEN PLANTS RECONVERTED

OTTAWA.—At least 100 major products, never before manufactured in Canada will be produced when Canadian manufacturers complete their reconversion plans, Reconstruction Minister Howe said in the Commons.

He gave the house an outline of the operations of the reconstruction department on his estimates and placed particular stress on industrial reconversion.

After he spoke a discussion arose over the future of Research Enterprises, Ltd., at Leaside, Toronto suburb, and Mr. Howe said plans had been made for private companies to take over some of the buildings and these companies would provide employment for about 3,000 persons. The plans might not be completed until next April.

Information on plans of private industry which Mr. Howe gave in his speech was based on applications for depreciation on account of capital expenditures and, he said, was incomplete. It showed, however, that the plants covered by applications had been production after reconversion than at the height of war production.

In 791 plants, whose products had a gross selling value of $946,000,000 in 1939 and $2,482,000,000 in 1944, production with a selling value of $2,882,000,000 was planned after reconversion. These same plants exported $235,000,000 worth of products in 1939 and $286,000,000 in 1944. Their planned export for the future was $408,000,000.

"Employment in these 791 plants amounted to 179,000 in 1939 and rose to 345,000 in 1944," said Mr. Howe. "These companies expect that as a result of their reconversion plans, they will provide additional employment for some 22,000 persons within one year after the new capital expenditures have been made."

"In addition to employment in the plants themselves, these reconversion plans will provide employment for many thousands in the construction and supply industries."

"A considerable part of the expenditure will be made in areas where the employment problem has been aggravated by large lay-offs of war workers and the need for absorbing returning service men."

"For example, in the Montreal area, $22,000,000 will be spent, in Vancouver, $4,100,000; in Winnipeg, $904,000."

New products to be produced included inter-city buses, prefabricated houses, glass fabrics, bearings, plastics, yarns, resins, medicines and chemicals.

OTTAWA.—Labor Minister Mitchell told the commons that, of Nov. 3 this year a total of 10,649 men called up for compulsory military service during the war were unaccounted for.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

PUBLIC MUST GET BEHIND REHABILITATION COMMITTEE

A $4,000 objective has been set, those eligible for gifts have been determined, date of the campaign has been decided by the local Reception and Rehabilitation Committee which is going all out to see that Coleman's returning armed personnel from overseas will be given proper recognition for services to their country.

The objective is expected to be obtained within a short period despite the fact that a six weeks campaign has been decided upon. However, all citizens, business houses, organizations, etc., will have to do their share and not leave it to the other fellow to donate. A gift at a minimum cost of $25 has been decided upon. No one in the community will deny that the boys deserve this recognition. Their support, however, can only be shown by a donation to the Gift Fund.

TRAFFIC PATROLS

During the past two weeks of winter, motorists know only too well the danger of driving over icy streets.

Situated as we are to central school we have had the opportunity of watching the youngsters coming out of school at noon and in the late afternoon and walking across the streets and intersections utterly oblivious to any danger about them from cars and trucks. Only the honking of horns makes them stop momentarily their childish chatter or bring them out of deep thought to move off the road so that auto traffic might pass. That no accidents have ever occurred throughout the years can be attributed to pure luck.

Coleman schools have now progressed to the point where traffic patrols should be organized. Several hundred youngsters swarm out of school each day at various times and make a bee line for home. They look neither to right or left when crossing the streets.

In order that possible accidents might be avoided it is suggested that these traffic patrols be set up. They could then be given the power to regulate traffic—foot or auto. Motorists would certainly co-operate with the patrols and it might be a good education to the youngsters in safety first regulations.

Traffic patrols are in operation in Canadian cities and in the States towns much smaller than Coleman have their school traffic patrols.

CHRISTMAS BUSINESS TO BOOM

A survey of Coleman business

Letter to The Editor

Editor, Journal.

Dear Sir: Coleman is a fine place in which to live. To this you will all agree—but—couldn't it be better? Shall I tell you one way? Good!

We need a recreation centre and I stress "need," not only that we would like it or that it would be nice to have, but that we need it.

Look around our town and see our educational and recreational facilities. They can be numbered on the fingers of one hand. All wide-awake citizens must have noticed this lack and wondered what could be done and how. Now comes your opportunity to help us, the youth of Coleman.

There is a plan afoot to move the Coleman arena to Flumerfelt Park. This, we believe to be an excellent idea, but how much better it would be if the new arena were to include besides a skating rink a library, roller rink, gymnasium, and so on. You can do it!

The advantage to boys and girls of having a place in which to spend their leisure time profitably are no longer debatable. Our need for such cannot be over-emphasized. At the present time there is little to do except walk from cafe to bowling alley and back. Teen-aged people cannot be expected to stay at home, for they must mix and learn a little of the give and take of life. Skating in the winter provides one opportunity as such, but what when there is no ice? How can we stay off the streets and out of trouble's way?

And, citizens, look to your civic pride. Few towns yet boast recreation centres. Those having them are very much in the news. Let's put Coleman up in front with the more progressive communities. You did it with your Curling Rink—and a grand job, too. And remember—we are your kids.

LIFE INSURANCE A GOOD THING

Life insurance has gotten to be an enormously large business in Canada. From small beginnings it has risen spectacularly. Life insurance has developed from a semi-speculative venture on the part of unsubstantial concerns into a solid and conservative business operated on precise mathematics. The risk of people dying has been figured with scientific precision and insurance companies, in the long run, take no inordinate risks. The value of life insurance has been demonstrated so often that people generally are aware of it. Thousands of families have been provided for through the instrumentality of life insurance who would otherwise be a charge on charity or governments.

By paying comparatively small sums at regular intervals an individual can build up an estate for himself. If he dies his family or heirs benefit. If he lives, his contributions help others less fortunate. No business ever undertaken by man has combined altruism and mutuality to the same extent as has life insurance. Stripped of the chiselry which characterized the business in its youth, life insurance has grown in stature, usefulness and dignity. Today it is generally respected and admired because of the usefulness it is to mankind. The only apparent criticism of the insurance business, as it now exists, is its cost. And this is due to people to a great degree, and not to the business of life insurance. If people would recognize its value and buy insurance without being encouraged or cajoled into so doing, costs would lessen considerably. But people are not like that. They have to be persuaded to buy and that costs money.

Any way life insurance is a good thing and a useful thing. Every man should have some insurance on his life and many women should, too.

There is nothing that can quite take the place of a good life insurance policy.

YOUNG BLAIRMORE COUPLE TO MAKE 3,000-MILE DOG-TEAM JOURNEY

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Czech, former residents of Blairmore, are preparing themselves for a trip half way across Canada by dog team. The trip, sponsored by the business men of Whitehorse, is being made in the interest of the Yukon Golden Jubilee, to be held at Whitehorse during the month of July, 1946.

Mrs. Czech will leave shortly for a visit to Blairmore and will later join her husband at Dawson Creek, BC, from which point she will travel by car with the advance party in charge of arrangements for the trip. Mr. Czech will leave Whitehorse on Dec. 1 with a selected team of seven dogs and will travel the 917 miles to Dawson Creek over the famous Alaska highway.

This should be an interesting trip for Helen and her husband. In fact, many of her friends at Whitehorse wish they were going along. Mrs. Czech has been a resident of this far northern community for about a year.

Three Sheets Marked At Curling Arena

Members of the curling executive have been busy during the past cold snap making ice in the arena. They have succeeded to the point where three sheets have been built up and marked. Number one sheet is being rapidly built up. The other evening a few members threw a few rocks.

Continual work on the part of Andy Dow and several of his club mates has wrought quite a few major changes in the interior of the rink. The first thing that hits the eye is the whiteness of the entire arena. The interior has been painted white so that the light will reflect back on the ice. Hanging from the rafters and on the walls are the flags of many allied nations, the various colored flags hang to advantage on the white background.

The walls have been boarded on the inside and shavings used for insulation. Greater ventilation has been secured by placing several sliding windows in various parts of the building. A double door has also been installed to aid ventilation. Pipes have been installed in the roof of the building to take heat out of the playing arena.

Outside the arena on the side next to the hill a concrete wall has been erected to prevent sliding rock falling against the side of the building.

Lions District Governor Visited Coleman

Gordon Sorenson, of Red Deer,
Paid Club an Official Visit;
W/C Terry Spoke on Yukon.

On Monday evening Coleman Lions club was honored with a visit from the district governor, Lion Gordon Sorenson, of Red Deer. The district governor was accompanied by his wife and in their honor the local club sponsored a ladies' night.

The governor gave a detailed report of his district and that of Lions International. He praised the accomplishments of the local club and urged that it be represented at all zone meetings. Following the close of the meeting he met in session with the directors and received a report on the club's activities.

A guest at the meeting was Wing Commander Victor Terry, RCAF, who only recently had come out of the Yukon, where he had been officer commanding the RCAF station at Whitehorse. He told a most interesting story of the airfields in that vicinity, of the days of '98 when the gold rush was in full swing, of the history of the Yukon and its unsurpassed scenic beauty. He advised anyone who desired a really good vacation to tour the Yukon, which possessed scenic beauty surpassing that of Banff and Lake Louise.

LORRAINE WANTS NAME IN THE PAPER

Last week The Journal carried a story on Mr. and Mrs. Bippin. Their daughter Lorraine read the story, remarked that it was fairly good, but that she should have at least received "honorable mention." In order to make good we make known the fact that the party behind the camera who was responsible for the nice picture shown in last week's issue was none other than Lorraine.

THEATRE NOTES

GODDARD, TUFTS RETURN
FOR "I LOVE A SOLDIER"

With a generous sprinkling of drama, comedy and romance, Paramount's "I Love a Soldier" seems likely to fill any entertainment bill perfectly. This Mark Sandrich production arrives Tuesday at the Palace theatre.

Sandrich directs two of his "So Proudly We Hail" stars in this one, Paulette Goddard and Sonny Tufts. Previewers say this pair turns in swell performances which keep the action moving at a lively pace throughout the film. A sure-fire bet to draw audience acclaim is the veteran actor, Barry Fitzgerald, who scored the most notable triumph of his career in "Going My Way," the Bing Crosby picture. Also on hand is Beulah Bondi in an emotional role which is destined to capture the audience's fancy.

CARY GRANT PLAYS
RESTLESS WANDERER

The rebellion of a restless young cockney against his world of misery and poverty is the basis of RKO Radio's thrilling new drama, "None But the Lonely Heart," which is based on Richard Llewellyn's best-selling novel. Cary Grant is starred and Ethel Barrymore featured in an equally important role.

The picture tells the story of Ernie Mott, a ne'er-do-well, played by Cary Grant, who is caught in the slough of misery in London's seamy East End. He has no regard for his mother, played by Miss Barrymore, nor for the love of a neighborhood girl. He takes his tawdry pleasures in a neighborhood "Fun House" and falls in love with one of the employees.

When he is finally spurred by desperation to relieve the miseries of his lot, he joins a gang of thugs, with the usual disastrous results. The fade-out, however, brings a promise of hope.

Supporting the two principals in a long cast of weird and interesting cockney personalities are Barry

Fitzgerald, Jane Wyatt, June Duprez, George Couluris, Roman Bohnen and Konstantin Shayne. "None But the Lonely Heart" comes to the Palace this Saturday.

"SUSAN" HAL WALLIS' FIRST UNDER PARAMOUNT BANNER

Previewers are saying that Joan Fontaine goes romantic with a bang in the first comedy role of her career, Paramount's "The Affairs of Susan." She's out to do the town with not one, but four, handsome men and it's anybody's guess who'll be the luckiest of the lucky four when George Brent, Dennis O'Keefe, Don DeFore and Walter Abel do the courting.

Susan's hectic love life to be revealed at Cole's theatre on Saturday, has a surprise in store for the Fontaine fans who think of her as the tragic, timid creature of "The Constant Nymph." In "The Affairs of Susan," Joan emerges gay and glamorous in a 28-change wardrobe designed by Edith Head. She thinks nothing of changing her personality with equal ease and, to please each of her four suitors, Joan does an about-face on four separate occasions. First, there is the sophisticated George Brent, then the playboy Don DeFore, then writer-poet, Dennis O'Keefe and, finally, airline big-wig Walter Abel. Joan has to go some to suit them all, and she does.

Tuberculosis deaths have been cut 42 per cent in Canada since 1927, the year the Canadian Tuberculosis Association held its first Christmas Seal sale.

In the first year of its daily trans-continental operation, one Canadian airline carried 21,569 passengers. Its 1944 estimate was 169,734 passengers.

Some 60,000 soldiers have been asked in a British government questionnaire to give their opinion of army clothing, with requests that they suggest desirable changes.

Canadian prisoners of war reaching Manila from Japan were in better shape than those of any other nationality, Maj. A. C. Barwick of Montreal said in an interview in Vancouver.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

DECEMBER 2

THE CHRISTIAN AND HIS ECONOMIC RELATIONS

Memory Selection: A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. Luke 12:15.

Lesson: Deuteronomy 8:17-18, Psalm 50:7-11; Malachi 3:8-10; Luke 12:15-21; 18:18-24; Acts 2:41-47; James 2:15-16; 5:1-6.

Devotional Reading: Matthew 6:19-30.

The Text Explained With Comments
The Ability to Secure Wealth Is God-Given, Deuteronomy 8:17, 18. These verses are part of the Deuteronomy which extends from the close of the fourth chapter through the twenty-eighth chapter. It is called the farewell address of Moses to the Children of Israel.

"Beware lest thou forget Jehovah thy God," are the first words of the passage which extends from verse 11 through verse 17; the last words are "and lest thou say in thy heart, 'My power and the might of mine hand have gotten me this wealth.'" Do not attribute your attainment of wealth to your ability and wisdom, for what are your capacity and wisdom but endowments from Jehovah? "Thou shalt remember Jehovah thy God, for he it is that giveth thee power to get wealth."

Beware of Covetousness, Luke 12:15. One day when Jesus was addressing his disciples in the presence of a crowd so large that they trod one upon another, a man who was uninterested in what Jesus was saying because his thoughts were all upon himself and the wrong which he felt had been done him, interrupted Jesus with his question about an inheritance. "Master, speak to my brother that he divide the inheritance with me," he cried. "Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?" solemnly Jesus asked. "The judicial customs of Eastern tribunals were such as to encourage litigation and hear cases open for repeated appeals," explains Albert L. Long. "So in every town were to be found those with a real, or with a feigned grievance, who had been waiting from year to year for some new judge or governor to take up their case. In the absence of such change in the tribunal, the claimant detailed his grievance where he could find a listening ear."

Jesus turned from the man and warned his listeners: "Take heed, and keep yourselves from all covetousness, for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." And then he gave them a parable to illustrate a covetous man and his fate.

SYMBOL OF SILENCE

From earliest times the rose has been the symbol of silence and secrecy, and anything heard "sub rosa," or under the rose, was supposed to be held in confidence. The Athenians wore the flower in their hair when telling secrets and, during the Middle Ages, countless banquet halls and dining rooms had roses painted on the ceilings as a reminder to guests. In the 16th century, roses were even worn over many confessionalists' collars.

Not for two decades has anyone found the nest of the nearly extinct whooping crane, which used to fly in vast flocks. 2648

Develop Musical Talent

Annual Scholarship Competition Open

For Young Canadian Composers
The ninth annual scholarship competition for young Canadian composers is announced by the Composers, Authors Association of Canada, and is to be conducted on the same basis as in previous years. Wide public recognition of the value of music as a tonic to public morale was achieved during the war and while the number of entries declined during the war years, standards of quality of composition did not diminish. The war acted as an emotional stimulus to creative effort among young people of musical talent, and the Association believes that there will be a substantial increase in the number of entries this year, especially from members of the armed services, who are now free for creative work in their chosen field.

As in the past, this year's contest is limited to entrants still under 22 years of age on March 31, 1946, the closing date of the contest. Aspirants are required to submit two manuscripts, one of which should be a song. The award prize being a $750 scholarship at the Toronto Conservatory of Music; this is supplemented by other cash awards for meritorious compositions, totaling $1,000.

The junior division is also continued. This division, open to competitors under 16 years of age on March 31, 1946, provides three cash prizes of $25, $15, and $10 in order of merit.

Several prize winners of past years have continued their activities on an expanding scale of excellence, and it is now generally recognized that when the Association initiated the scholarship plan and cash awards, it started a cultural movement that has grown far beyond the scope of the competition itself, which was merely to encourage young Canadian talent by making educational facilities of a high order available to those of outstanding merit. Within the last seven years, as the competition attracted more and more highly gifted young composers, original works by these young Canadians have been heard on radio and concert programs with increasing frequency. This development has been distinctively national as evidenced by the fact that meritorious compositions have been received from every quarter of the Dominion.

One of the most outstanding contestants in the past was Robert Fleming, at present with the R.C.A.P. Fleming won the scholarship in 1942, and studied at the Toronto Conservatory of Music under Dr. Healey Willan. The next year he wrote his "Nursery Suite" which was performed by the Toronto Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Sir Ernest MacMillan, before a widely enthusiastic audience. The radio public was given the opportunity of hearing the work of this young composer. "Bella Bella Spatula" from coast to coast, Fleming, who will soon be discharged from the Air Force intends to make composing his life work, and is a student of a special character. He has already contributed two major works to the fund of Canadian Music and will undoubtedly take his place among the top flight composers of the country.

Young musicians of either sex wishing to enter the competition should write at once for entry forms and copies of the rules to Composers Authors and Publishers Association, 2 King Street, East, Toronto, Canada. Through co-operation of provincial departments of education, announcements will also be sent to music teachers in schools throughout Canada. The association suggests that music teachers can assist in this national cultural movement by encouraging promising youngsters to compete and by familiarizing themselves with the rules and awards of the competition.

Leader Of Small Band Composed
"Roll Out The Barrel"

A wide search for the composer of "Roll Out The Barrel," a hit tune early in the war, ended in a small village near Prague, where Jaromir Vejvoda learned that $20,000 ($80,000) in royalties is waiting for him in London.

Vejvoda was found to be the leader of a small brass band which never travelled more than a few miles. He had no inkling that his tune had become so popular.

Royalties have been paid to the Custodian of Enemy Property, and even when the composer establishes his right to the money he cannot be paid until a monetary agreement is reached between Britain and Czechoslovakia.

TIME TOO SHORT

There is word from archaeologists in London that "civilization" is really two thousand years older than they once thought; that is, between seven and eight thousand years old. As a matter of fact, states the Montreal Star, we would offhand, have said it must be even older. Eight thousand years seem such a little time to have developed the mess we're in.

Leading anthropologists regard Eskimos as merely one kind of North American Indian, both in blood and language.

DIES IN HIS 97TH YEAR—Field Marshal August von Mackensen, 96, member of the German general staff under Bismarck and famed general in the war of 1914-1918, who died at his estate near Celle in the British zone of occupation. During the Franco-Prussian war Von Mackensen was decorated with the Iron Cross. He was promoted to the general staff in 1882 and later elevated to nobility. He commanded a division under Von Hindenburg at Tannenberg and the Masurian lakes in the 1914-1918 war. He directed the occupation of Romania in 1917. He helped put down civil disorders that marred the Weimar republic and later became leader of the Stahlhelm, the veterans' organization.

Help For All

Public Services In Russia Are Free To Everyone

Since the establishment of Soviet rule in Russia radical changes have taken place in the public health services. Formerly the shortage of doctors and the expensive nature of medical aid forced broad masses of the population to resort to home-made measures.

Nowadays every patient is entitled to qualified medical treatment in hospitals, polyclinics, and at home, entirely free of charge. Thanks to the efforts of the Soviet Government in this direction, epidemics have become unknown things in this country.

As compared with 1913 the number of persons suffering from tuberculosis decreased 2.5 times.—U.S.S.R. Bulletin.

Ruler Of Tonga Islands Receives Award From British Empire

Queen, Salote, the only queen besides Queen Elizabeth in the Empire, ruler of the South Pacific islands of Tonga, has been awarded the Grand Cross of the Order of the British Empire. The people of the Friendly Islands have been the friends of Britain since the time Captain Cook discovered the first westerner to see the islands and when war with the Japanese came the queen raised £100,000 ($450,000) and a force of men to fight them. She gave two Spitfires to Britain to fight the Germans, too.

CANADA

INTERESTPASTEURIZATION SAID ONLY
SURE MILK SAFEGUARD

In its current campaign to obtain compulsory pasteurization of milk throughout Canada, the Health League of Canada emphasizes that clean raw milk, even if produced under ideal conditions, is not always dependably safe.

Clean milk is essential from a sanitary viewpoint and safeguards health to a certain extent in that it is eliminated much disease-carrying dirt. Many safeguards can be taken to assure clean milk, but even clean milk, if unpasteurized, can carry germs.

Dr. John R. Fraser, a member of McGill University's medical faculty, says that milk is "one of the most difficult foods to produce, draw, keep, handle and deliver in a clean state. Most foods usually are cooked well enough to kill any harmful or disease-producing germs that are in or get in them, whereas milk to a great extent is consumed in the uncooked state."

Dr. Frank Pedley of Montreal, another authority, in a radio broadcast a few years ago, told about a father who did not believe in pasteurization. This father arranged to have his baby fed certified milk that was always obtained from the same cow. One time the baby contracted bovine tuberculosis. The cow was tested and was found to have tuberculosis in an advanced stage.

Dr. Pedley commented that infectious diseases in cattle often occur and contaminate milk between tests which are made only about twice a year. The same is true in regard to milk and handling of milk.

Milk must be clean and must be pasteurized to make it absolutely safe.

Dr. Adelard Groulx, Director of the City of Montreal Health Department, says that milk and its products still remain the cause of too many infections. Pasteurization of milk should be universal.

Laundry Problem

Is Solved In Britain By Use Of A Slat Machine

A shilling-in-the-slot washing machine will shortly go into production in Britain to help solve the laundry problem.

The machine looks like a radio set and will wash pounds of clothes in 40 minutes. The housewife merely puts the clothes in, adds soap and powder and turns on a switch. The machine then fills itself with water, washes the clothes, triple rinses them and damps dries them. In addition it collects any buttons which come off washed garments.

"Laundrettes" equipped with 10 or 12 machines will soon be opened in many parts of Britain and the machine will be installed in working-class blocks of flats.

Men are greatly advantaged in one thing; they do not have to take a day off to get their hair washed.

Fashioning the weekly meat ration of a family of four can be satisfying and appetizingly done. If you crave a roast for Sunday's more leisurely dinner, this week's suggestion is loin of lamb, four pounds of which can be had for two coupons. Aside from Sunday's good eating you should each be assured of a thick cold chop for Monday's dinner, and perhaps some trimmings for luncheon use. A cheese dish for Tuesday, such as a soufflé or macaroni combination, can be counted on to do double duty. Along with ration economy it will provide the milk-drinking objectors of the family with the invaluable nutrients of dairy products. Wednesday's corned beef with a green savory cabbage, now a market specialty, is a dish which is bound to win friends and influence appetites. If you are lucky there will be remnants from your coupon's worth for sandwich fillings or salad accompaniment. Veal cutlets for Thursday are good value in terms of tokens, pennies and eating enjoyment. Friday brings the cycle of eating round to fish. For Saturday you might jump the ration hurdle and bake unrationed spare ribs serving them with a barbecue sauce. This will bring you to the end of the week with three tokens to use as and when an emergency arises.

Marks Bicentenary

The British National Anthem First
Performed Officially 200 Years Ago

The national anthem, "God Save the King", attained its bicentenary on Sept. 28—200 years after it was first performed officially in Drury Lane Theatre.

Dr. Aime, musical director of the theatre, arranged the musical setting for that performance, but the tune is known to have been based on an earlier melody, probably the work of Dr. John Bull, one-time Chapel Royal organist.

Claims for the composition have also been made on behalf of Henry Carey, who is believed to have arranged a setting for the birthday of George II. in 1740.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

..And She Be Fair

By DAY RUSSELL

Copyright
Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

The grandmotherly lady was not a person you could ignore. There was a serenity about her that was almost a kind of radiance. She sat, her black-gloved hands crossed on her lap, in the corner of one of the heavy oak double-sided benches that hyped the length of the art gallery. She gazed quietly at one picture.

The gallery was exhibiting the collection of Harvey J. Collinson, the city's wealthiest citizen, lately deceased. He had collected art, at first with zest and later with discrimination, and he had bequeathed his collection to the city. Now it was being exhibited, old masters and moderns, each in their separate rooms, and the rest, a mixed bag of unknowns, in this gallery where the old lady sat.

She had been the first in on this weekday morning but now students were coming in. Two of the older ones, a boy and a girl, sat down into the bench where the old lady sat. "They should have thrown out some of the stuff in this room too," the boy was at the arrogant stage of his convictions. "Sweet stuff."

"And She Be Fair," read the girl aloud. "Vivian Gray. Ever heard of him?"

"Never," said the boy. "Didn't they just love to throw a young girl down on a bank of flowers and paint her all sweetness and light?"

"But she is lovely," said the girl slowly.

The boy nodded with superiority. "Clever of him to give her that Greek clock-curved hair. Doesn't date her. Idealized sentiment. But she was never like that."

"But she was!" They started as the old lady turned to them. "You see, I knew her."

Awkwardly, to save fumbling for a reply, they turned to look at the picture again. It was a huge canvas in which a life-sized girl, young and lovely, lay in a patch of mottled sunlight against the shadow of a woodland glade.

"Look at the perfect detail," said the girl.

"Detail doesn't count. Might just as well have a color photograph," said the boy.

"But no," said the old lady, quietly. "No! Can't you see? She is in love."

"Yes," breathed the girl. "Did you know the artist too?"

"Yes. Very well. He painted that picture fifty years ago... in this city."

The boy spoke. "But nobody ever heard of him."

"It was harder for artists in those days. There was no interest in art."

"No interest?" said the boy quickly. "Collinson bought that picture and I'll bet he paid a pretty price for it."

"Twenty dollars," said the old lady sadly. "That was the first picture he bought, that started his collection. He had to buy others... more and more to make that girl seem smaller and less disturbing."

There was a puzzled expression on the girl's face. "But I don't see..."

Alarming Increase

Prairie Provinces Had More Safe-Breaking Cases During 1944-45

The return of prosperity to the prairie provinces in recent years apparently proved tempting to the safe-blowing fraternity, for in the years 1944-45 yeggs "blew" or tampered with safes in 68 places of business in the three provinces.

Only other case of safebreaking reported in Canada in that period occurred in Nova Scotia. The total of 69 was an increase of 41 over the preceding year and is the highest since 1937.

Of the 68 cases recorded in the prairies, 46 were in Alberta, 11 in Saskatchewan and 11 in Manitoba.

Commissioner S. T. Wood, R.C.M.P. head, said that special measures to combat safebreaking are continually being placed in operation. "We had reduced the number of safe-blowing cases to less than 30 a year, but evidently the more prosperous conditions in the west have been too hard to resist for some people. We're hoping it will not be long before the number of cases is down again."

The Canadian Shield

In Ancient Times Was A Land Of Large Volcanoes

What is the Canadian Shield? Here is the answer which the geologists of the Royal Ontario Museum give to this question. It is an area of ancient rocks that underlies about one-half of Canada. It is called a shield because it has in a broad way the shape of a low dome with later rocks around its rim. It is thus something like the old-fashioned shield carried by warriors. The rocks run in age from about two billion years to 500 million years and it is estimated about three-quarters of all geological time for them to form. The Shield was, in ancient times, a land of numerous and large volcanoes, it had great mountains and violent earthquakes, but the mountains and volcanoes have been worn away to mere stumps of their former grandeur by rain, streams and glacial action. In contrast to the early conditions, this great area is now free from earthquakes than any other area of its size in the world. There are relics of much primitive life, mainly plants, in the Shield, but few fossils of animals. It is one of the great sources of metals because of an abundance of igneous rocks, but it lacks coal and oil which were not formed until later times.

Rocks like those of the Shield underlie much of North America and if one drilled deep enough on the prairies or in southern Ontario much rocks would be found under the sediments.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Whenever Trouble Starts Britain Has To Carry Burden

The trouble in Java is the old story of Great Britain and British troops having to carry the burden. Where the Dutch failed to keep order when the Indonesian Nationalists, the British had to come along and see about it. When the natives murdered Brig. A. W. F. Malaby while he was arranging a truce, they went out of their way to ask for trouble.

It has been the same old story through the centuries. Others have been critical of Britain, others have said Britain should do this or that should not do that. But, when trouble flares, everyone sits back and lets Britain do the hard work. British troops have to go in and quell the riots. British officers are the ones who get murdered. And, all the time that is being done, too many others are content to snipe at Britishism and make vociferous declarations against what they term British Imperialism.—Windsor Star.

NO PLACE FOR GUNS

The Minister of Defence has stated that no more guns will be appropriated to communities for setting out in parks. It is just as well, says the Port Arthur News-Chronicle. There is something incongruous in the spectacle of guns in such places. They are not even an ornament. Many people have objected and they are not far wrong.

✦ The people of Yarrow, B.C., each week slaughter four cattle, can the meat in jars (4000 have already been done so far) and have it shipped for relief to Europe. Each jar is labelled: "Food for Relief, in the Name of Christ. The contents of this container were derived from animals or poultry which were owned, fed, slaughtered and processed by me and I hereby certify they are wholesome and fit for human food and donated for relief purposes. These contents are not for sale." The donor's name and address is signed. The work is done entirely by men at the Yarrow Grower's berry plant. Verily, our hats off to Yarrow, Canadians and humanitarians.

✦ Bits from here and there: Rationing is not new. At Fort Edmonton in 1858 it was seven lbs. of buffalo meat each day per person. ... 150 residents of the Venn (Sask.) community met Nov. 5 to honor a merchant leaving the community; there was whisky and lunch, and Tom Yee was presented with a purse of money. ... George Gustafson shot a coon, 3 ft. in length which he caught invading his chicken run at Wainwood, B.C. ... a vicious chicken hawk, attacked Wilfred Schröder at Oxenden, Ont., after it had been injured by a shotgun blast, stealing chickens in his yard. ... Looking among documents in the town hall at Stowatville, Ont., P. J. Lindsay found an old letter written on July 25, 1888, by J. A. Macdonald, former editor of the Ampror Chronicle. ... Looks like the old grey beard and what she used to be, says the Watrous Manitou, because at Bruce Gill's sale, a team of horses sold for $30 and cows up to $118. A farm woman drove up to Victory Loan headquarters at Peace River, Alta., and asked for a sack of sugar or the table, asked for $1600 worth of Victory Bonds; represented lifetime savings from selling eggs and milk.

✦ Making up for sugar shortage in the west, George Fennie of Homewood, had 80 acres of fine beets this year, making as much as 18 tons an acre, all of which went, with others to the sugar beet factory at Winnipeg. Largest beet was 11 lbs. 2 oz.

✦ And that brings up potatoes: a new record for yield is recorded by the Ontario Crop Improvement Association. The yield is 684.6 bushels per acre by a farmer of the Remy farm, near the town of North York, Ontario. J. Vanderhorst, Fort Frances, was presented with a certificate of merit.

✦ Labor and capital in this country both learn that this is one world. Both will be lucky to maintain their present positions rather than improve them. This is no time for strikes or lockouts. Rather should management and workers seek mutual opportunity to work and earn through co-operation and good will. Only this can the reconstruction of factories to full production be hastened.—Midland Free Press.

✦ At Yarmouth, N.S., the Herald-Telegram deplores the fact that in the recent election one-fourth of the electors in the constituency neglected to vote, saying: "... are symptoms of a distinctly unhealthy and alarming attitude of mind toward public affairs. That this condition is general and by no means confined to Yarmouth county is neither consoling nor cause for self-congratulation. We are beseeching a people who will defend free government with our treasure and our blood—and then recklessly fling it away by our selfish indifference and indifference.

✦ The Drumher, Alta. Board of Trade has been advised by the Minister of Reconstruction at Ottawa, that he is considering the proposal that one or more of Germany's synthetic oil plants be secured to be re-established in one of Alberta's oil fields.

The Port Of Bordeaux

Traffic Will Soon Exceed That Of Pre-War Days

Bordeaux, huge Atlantic seaport of France, is gradually resuming its normal appearance and expects soon to handle more traffic than in pre-war days when its average monthly shipments totalled some 400,000 tons.

As the Germans as a submarine base and shipyard, Bordeaux itself endured a minimum of German vandalism.

Forced to evacuate hastily at the time of liberation, the Nazis had no time to bring up valuable port installations, but they did succeed in bottling up the harbor channels by scattering some 20 ships and by planting numerous magnetic mines to prevent passage up the Gironde estuary.

The annual revenue of daily newspapers in Canada is seven times that of all magazines combined, according to the 1945 Report on Printing Trades.

Not An Easy Job

Trying To Break Any Speed Record Is Risky Business

Either on the water, on land or in the air, those who attempt to break speed records certainly risk their necks. A most intriguing story comes from England about what an airman goes through, at 400 miles an hour, or better, miles a minute.

This writer brings to attention what is known as the "g" factor or element, and notes that the extent of the speed depends on the rate of speed. A 12 ft. pilot, at a certain speed, experiences "2g," which means that his weight is doubled. At still higher speed he may experience "4g," which would cause a 12 ft. pilot actually to weigh over half a ton. The principle is a simple one—weight multiplied by velocity. Its primitive example is a bucket of water swung round on a rope at a speed that prevents the water spilling.

The water in the bucket multiplies its weight. Remember, too, that the plane is subject to just the same "g" factor. At certain high velocity the "g" factor makes the pilot's blood about the same weight as iron. Reflect what that must mean even momentarily to his heart. In certain rare reverse "g" cases there is negative action. A pilot's eyes have actually been forced out of the sockets. Record-breaking is not all beer and skittles.—St. Catharines Standard.

SMILE AWHILE

The hardest time to get baby to sleep is when she is 18.

"Why do you have such a high bed for your little boy?"

"So that we can hear him if he falls out of it."

"A clever man tells a woman he understands her; a stupid one tries to prove it."

"Doctor, I don't drink or smoke or chase around with women—will I live 100 years?"

"No," replied the medic, "but it'll seem like it."

Jack: "Let's give the bride a shower."

John: "Count me in—I'll bring the soap."

First Student—"The Principal says he is going to stop smoking in the college."

Second Student—"Huh! Next thing he'll be asking us to stop it, too."

Mother—"Marilyn, were you a good little girl at church today?"

Marilyn—"Yes, mother. A man offered me a big plate of money, and I said, 'No, thank you.'"

"Has she kept her girlish figure?"

"Kept it? Man, she has doubled it."

"I had a surprise this morning," remarked the business man, "I put of another suit, and in one of the pockets found a big roll of bills, which I had entirely forgotten."

Asked a pessimist: "Were any of them recycled?"

The grocer was making out a list of his requirements to send to his wholesalers.

"BILL," he shouted to his assistant, "do we want any new-laid eggs?"

"No, sir, we've enough to last a month or more."

A woman looks at a secret in two ways—either it is not worth keeping, or it is too good to be kept.

THE "CYCLING MINSTREL"

It's a common misconception among people who first met G. Harrison Randall, 31, the Fredericton Hill-Billy, that he travelled 11,250 miles to Vancouver on a bicycle. Actually, he made the trip on two harmonicas. G. Harrison, who has played 750 shows for servicemen, left Fredericton in May, 1942, "three years and five months ago," with his trusty wheel and about 200 pounds of baggage. He's pushed this load from the Atlantic to the Pacific, often detouring through the U.S. In January he's setting off for Hollywood where he hopes to pose for a few pictures. From Hollywood the cycling scoundrel will head for Miami, then up to Charleston to see his fiancée and then to New Brunswick.

Roquefort Cheese

Story Of How This Type Of Cheese Came To Be Made

The Roquefort type of cheese is now made in many parts of the world but it is named for a cave in France where it is supposed to have originated. The story is that a shepherd boy tending his flock in the vicinity of Roquefort caves placed his lunch of barley bread and native cheese in the cool of one of the caves until noon.

However, his flock wandered afar and several weeks passed before it returned to the spot. Remembering the lunch, the shepherd was surprised to find the barley bread covered with black mould and the cheese variegated with veined green mould. He tasted the cheese and, finding it delicious, placed the lunch he was carrying that day in the cave for further investigation.

His discovery was noted by the Congreg monks of that region and they are given the credit for developing Roquefort cheese through the use of mould from this cave.

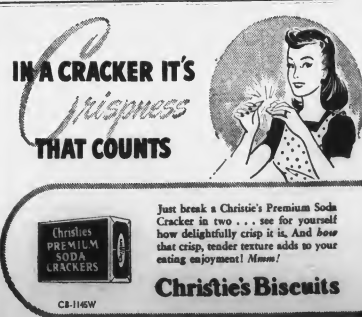

INFERIOR STRATEGY

The New York Herald Tribune says Germany was full of militarily effective, even revolutionary, ideas, but each of them—jet planes, high-speed U-boats, V-weapons, super-tanks—tended to get in the way of the other; none was used to its full potentialities, and it seems clear that the overall pattern of German strategy was markedly inferior to that of the western Allies or of Russia.

The city of Kuwait, Iran, with a population of 80,000, has to depend solely on water shipped 250 miles in barges from Basra, Iraq.

The population of Egypt is about 16,000,000.
